FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE February 18, 2013

ORLANDO, FL - The Central Florida chapter of NAIOP, the Commercial Real Estate Development Association, presented Crossman & Company with five major awards to celebrate 2012.

Among the awards won, Tracy Worrell, received the Smallest Deal of the Year for 2012 as well as 3rd place rookie of the year; 2nd place Rookie of Year went to Crossman & Company's Katherine Rush.

In the category of Investment Sales, Brian Carolan took home 3rd place Investment Broker of the Year... but the category everyone was waiting for was Developer of the Year in which Crossman & Company won with the Water Tower at Celebration redevelopment project.

"This is just one example of Publix being known as a leader in the retail industry. They continue to show that they are a financially stable anchor that has the resources and commitment to their community," commented John Crossman, President of Crossman & Company.

As the 124,000 square foot shopping center has overcome several struggles since 2005, with the redevelopment of the Shoppes at Water Tower you can expect shopping in Celebration to be pleasurable for years to come.
